The hour of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

Speaker Belch in the chair.

The Speaker laid before the House, the following communication from the State Auditor:

AUDITOR'S OFFICE,
CITY OF JEFFERSON, March 29, 1879. }

HON. J. ED. BELCH, Speaker House of Representatives:

SIR:—In compliance with House resolution of date of March 4th, 1879, requesting the State Auditor to submit to the House of Representatives, a statement showing the present condition of the revenue fund, the amount of bonds falling due this year, and provisions for their payment, the approximate condition of the revenue fund on the 1st September next, and out of what fund the reported deficit, $286,000, must be met, I have the honor to report the balance in the revenue fund, March 1, 1879, was $563,976.74, after paying all Auditor's warrants issued to that date.

The amount the Treasurer paid out on certificates of the legislative committees of accounts, is not here considered, for I only treat of the disbursements made on Auditor's warrants, as my books do not show what he may have advanced prior to March 1st, on certificates and accounts for which warrants were not drawn for want of appropriations.

The following table will exhibit the approximate condition of the revenue fund on September 1st, as near as now can be estimated:

REVENUE FUND.

By Balance, March 1, 1879		$563,976 74
“ Estimate receipts from March 1st to August 31st inclusive, based on what was received last year for same period of time, see page 174, Auditor's report.....		310,000 00
To Transfer to school moneys, $\frac{1}{4}$ of the revenue fund received from March 1st, 1878, to Feb. 28, 1879.....	\$328,255 18
“ Weston court common pleas.....	147 00
“ Repairs, etc., Asylum No. 1.....	6,000 00
“ Debt Lincoln Institute.....	5,000 00
“ Pay of General Assembly.....	130,000 00
“ Contingent expenses of same.....	55,000 00
“ Printing reports and documents, ordered by the General Assembly.....	10,000 00
“ June interest on revenue bonds.....	6,250 00
“ Immediate relief of St. Joseph Asylum.....	8,570 00
“ Printing laws and journals to be appropriated, estimated at.....	9,000 00
“ Paper and printing Revised Statutes to be appropriated, estimated at.....	22,000 00
“ Distribution laws and journals to be appropriated, estimated at.....	5,000 00

To Deficiency and special appropriation, estimated.....	$70,000 00
“ ½ appropriation to State University.....	19,500 00
“ ½ appropriation to School of Mines.....	7,500 00
“ ¾ appropriation for paper for State printing.....	10,666 00
“ ⅓ of the ordinary current expenses for the two years, estimated	506,954 45
Total.....	$1,199,842 63	$873,976 74
	873,976 74
Balance overdrawn, Sept. 1.....	$325,865 89

From the foregoing it will be seen the revenue fund will be overdrawn September 1st, $325,865.89; in other words, the Auditor's warrants will then exceed the receipts to that amount.

No part of the $100,000 appropriated for the support and repairs of the Penitentiary is embraced in the foregoing estimate, as it is not likely any part thereof will be required by September, unless the management of that institution should be changed by legislation.

If appropriations should be made other than the above mentioned, and the general appropriation approved 21st inst., the approximate amount will be increased.

It must be borne in mind that the current expenses have been running since the first day of January last, but not a dollar of the current revenue has been received for this year.

It will not be due before September, and the larger portion will not be paid before December.

The present receipts are from balances due on tax books of 1878, back and delinquent taxes and licenses.

I would respectfully call attention to what was said in regard to receipts and disbursements on page 5 of the Auditor's report.

There will be $250,000 of revenue bonds falling due June 1st, which will, in my opinion, have to be met by a temporary loan, as the revenue fund is not now in condition to meet them. If they should be paid out of the revenue fund the approximate excess of Auditor's warrants issued over receipts on September 1st, will be $575,865.89 instead of $325,865.89 as stated.

I am not advised "out of what fund the reported deficit of $286,000 must be met." All the information I have in the premises is obtained from the reports of the Treasurer and others, and his subsequent propositions, to which reference is respectfully made.

It will be observed from the report I had the honor to submit to your honorable body on the 24th inst., there will be a falling off at least $50,000,000 of taxable property of the State, which will make a reduction from this source of $200,000 a year in the State revenue.

In addition to the recommendations then submitted, I will respectfully suggest the propriety of legislation authorizing a temporary loan to be made early in 1880, to run for two years, and the levying of a poll tax to meet the loan and other emergencies that may arise.

I have not thought proper to consider the condition of the other funds, as my quarterly report to the Governor, to be made the first proximo, will give the then condition of all funds.

Very respectfully,

THOS. HOLLADAY,

State Auditor.

Which was read, and, on motion, referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. Cox, from the special committee appointed to visit and examine into various locations for the re-establishment of Lunatic Asylum No. 2, submitted the following report:

MR. SPEAKER: Your Committee appointed under the resolution, a copy of which is hereto attached, and in obedience thereto, beg leave to report that they have visited the following places, to-wit: St. Joseph, Macon City, "Limerick Lawn," near Lexington, Kennett Castle, in Jefferson county, Fulton, and several sites around Jefferson City, for the purposes set forth in the resolution, and that the advantages, disadvantages and inducements offered by each place respectively, are herein set forth. Immediately after leaving Jefferson City your committee at once proceeded to St. Joseph, Buchanan county, for the reason that that city is the present location of Asylum No. 2, and that it was the scene of the disastrous conflagration which, at one and the same time, deprived the State of valuable property, and turned out on the streets, houseless and homeless, those unfortunate wards of the State, which, on account of their helplessness, she is, at all times, bound, in honor, to do her utmost to protect. Your committee found that, at the moment of the dread disaster which befell them, the warm-hearted generosity of the people of St. Joseph provided a comfortable shelter, by an offering of, and their acceptance thereof, of the court house building of Buchanan county, and in which they have still remained.

Therefore, that the General Assembly might have definite and direct knowledge of their immediate necessities, your committee has thought it best to report an account of a visit made them immediately on our arrival in St. Joseph, and the result of our observations. The building in which they are at present located, is very poorly adapted to the care and treatment of insane persons, there being an absence of adequate sewerage and other necessities. Many other deficiencies exist, which, however, is the case with all buildings not specially constructed for the purpose. The approach of warm weather demands the providing of other and more suitable quarters, at the earliest possible moment, that the physical suffering and ill-health produced by a lack of sanitary provisions, without which the health and life of the patient are constantly threatened.

Your committee made examination of the ruins of the late asylum building, and found that the foundation has been damaged to not more than one fourth; the exterior walls can be used in the new building except on two sides; the interior walls are generally good, so far as we could see. The piping, used for gas and water purposes, are in fair condition, and the greater part thereof fit for use. The boilers are all good, and the apparatus for the manufacture of gas is in perfect order.

The sewerage, one of the most important features of a building of an eleemosynary character, where large numbers of persons are gathered under one roof, as permanent residents, is one of the most thoroughly and best constructed; and the entire work, from the ruins to the discharge-mouth, is entirely sound in every particular. The cost of building the sewer alone was $5,000.00, or nearly so.

The supply of water is abundant in the extreme, sufficient to meet all the wants of a large institution of the kind just destroyed.

There are a number of out-buildings, such as barns, stables, ice-houses, etc., and each and all of them are in good repair; the stable particularly is large, commodious and well-arranged, having been built of good merchantable brick.

If, in the judgment of this House, the asylum should be rebuilt at this point, the upper stories can be used for barracks for convicts, in case that kind of labor is used or employed in the construction.

There are one hundred and twenty-three (123) acres of very fine land, belonging to the institution, which are now enclosed by a good plank fence; but there is a rapidly growing hedge of Osage orange, two years old, and which will, in the course of a few years more, take the place of the present fence.

The land can, in our opinion, be made to produce all of the vegetables required for the use of the Asylum; there is also an orchard of seven hundred (700) bearing fruit trees, in fair condition, sufficient to supply, at a very small cost, nearly, if not all the fruit required; the vineyard of seven acres in extent, shows very evidently the hand of care, and seems to be of a productive character. There are ten acres in the immediate vicinage of the former Asylum, finely planted in maple and other varieties of shade trees, which, in two years more of thrifty growth, will add greatly to the beauty and value of the grounds.

It was deemed proper on the part of your committee while here, to look closely into the cost of supplies at this point, and in this interest we visited a number of the leading grocers, etc., and report that general supplies, such as would be needed in an institution of this kind, can, in the opinion of your committee, be bought at this point as cheaply as at any other.

The railroad communication with the other parts of the State are extremely good.

It was ascertained that the contract entered into last year, by the superintendent for coal, for the year, was at the price of $15\frac{3}{4}$ cents per bushel, a price which was greatly in advance of any figure noted at any other place visited by your committee. In this particular, we note one of the disadvantages of St. Joseph, it being the high price of fuel.

Your committee held several advisory conversations with men qualified to give an opinion on the cost of rebuilding the Asylum No. 2 on its former site, and herewith present a general estimate, based upon personal examination as well, bearing upon that point.

To rebuild Asylum No. 2, with all the additional improvements for the convenience, health and well being of the patients and their necessary officers and attendants, complete in all its arrangements, except as to furniture, it would cost nearly, if not quite, $65,000.

If a guarantee can be given the people of St. Joseph that the Asylum No. 2 will be rebuilt at their city, the necessary arrangements will be at once perfected, to render all the protection and care needed by the patients, until the building for their occupancy is finished.

Your committee from thence proceeded to Macon City, the county seat of Macon county. This city is situated at the junction of the Hannibal and St. Joseph and the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern Railroads, and on the divide between the great valleys of the Missouri and Mississippi, and on account of its elevation, enjoys a degree of health vouchsafed but few localities in the State. The surrounding country is well settled by thrifty, frugal people, and the lands are in a good of cultivation. In the immediate vicinity are perhaps the largest coal fields in the State, and their product is afforded at the reasonable rate of eight cents per bushel.

The building to which the attention of your committee was directed, is known as "Johnson College," situated about three-quarters of a mile from the court house, in the northern part of the city. It is a large unfinished building of brick, situated nearly in the center of a ten acre plat of ground.

The foundation of the building is very substantially built of stone, and the superstructure, so far as finished, is well built. There is an additional building attached to the main building, which needs considerable repairs and improvements to make it habitable; the building is of three stories in height. It is proposed by the citizens of Macon City to donate this entire property to the State of Missouri, if this House deems it wise to change the location of Asylum No. 2, to the point named.

Your committee estimates the value of property, as it now stands at $10,000, although the improvements are reported to have cost $31,000.

In the judgment of your committee, it would cost, to finish the building and add needed improvements, to adopt it to the requirements of the objects to which the institution would be directed, an outlay of fully $75,000. This estimate includes the cost of 100 acres of land additional to and adjoining the ten acres before mentioned. In the opinion of your committee, an institution of this kind should have not less than 100 acres of good land attached thereto.

The advantage of this location lies in the gift of the property to the State, and the cheap price of fuel; but in opposition to these advantages, the entire absence of fruit and shade trees and the lack of a sufficient supply of water, (though this may be remedied by the construction of ponds, cisterns and wells, the cost of which are included in the estimates of expenditures above named,) and other minor collateral matters present themselves.

The next place your committee visited, was the property known as "Limrick Lawn," situated about two miles from the thriving little city of Lexington, county seat of Lafayette county. Your committee was warmly welcomed, and every attention necessary for their comfort, was carefully bestowed, and it is believed that into the hands of no community in the State, could an institution of this character and magnitude be more safely entrusted; that it would be deeply appreciated, there can be no doubt, as the people are refined and cultured to a high degree, and have broad and liberal views in regard to the care and support of the unfortunate insane, which would be well to have a footing, not only throughout our State, but throughout the Union.

The property offered to the State for purchase, contains three hundred and twenty acres of very choice land, situated so as to present a view of the whole surrounding country, which is beautiful indeed.

Your committee made an examination of the building, and found that solidity and durability, combined with perfect symmetry and exact proportion, seemed to be the leading idea in its construction, the walls being built of stone, brick and cement of good quality.

We found a good gas machine and connecting pipes running throughout the building, and gas burners and brackets in all the rooms. In the basement were two furnaces, with hot air pipes leading to all parts of the house, also pipes leading from a spacious and durably built tank on the top of the house, also speaking tubes and a good system of bells.

The out buildings are a large octagon shaped brick ice house ; an octagon smoke house ; a large poultry house ; ample stabling, corn cribs, carriage house, a cottage of five rooms, a brick house of four rooms, with a large laundry attached, a large and substantially built grape arbor, and many other minor buildings, all built in a durable manner. The land we found under good plank fence, and in fair condition. There is, perhaps an hundred acres in heavy timber, about twenty acres in orchard and vineyard, and the balance in vegetable garden, and cultivating land in very fair condition.

There is a pond of good dimensions situated in the woodland, from which the supply of ice is gathered. A grove of beautiful chestnut trees attracted the attention of your committee ; and also, a grove of shade and ornamental trees immediately surrounding the house, and arranged with great taste, making this the most attractive place seen by your Committee during their peregrinations.

Your Committee are not satisfied that the water supply is now sufficient to meet the wants of an institution of the magnitude of Asylum No. 2 ; this, however, may be remedied by the construction of ponds, cisterns and wells.

The property, as offered now, would cost the State just thirty-thousand dollars.

The buildings now on the property are entirely inadequate for the use of two hundred patients and their necessary attendants, and to meet their wants, would require additional buildings, at a cost of not less than sixty thousand dollars.

The railroad communication to all parts of the State is good.

Coal is in great abundance in the vicinity, and it is claimed that the strata of coal underlies the entire tract of land upon which these buildings are situated, and can be mined by the State at a mere nominal cost.

Your Committee next proceeded by rail to St. Louis, and embarked for Selma, Jefferson county, to view the property known as Kennett Castle.

It is distant from St. Louis thirty-five miles, at a good river landing, and six miles from the Iron Mountain railroad, with which it is connected by a narrow gauge branch, running from Rock Fort station to Platin Creek.

The building is of the finest description, and is built in the most durable and substantial manner. Its dimensions are one hundred and eleven feet in length by sixty-eight feet wide, exclusive of porticos. The entire elevation is about fifty feet, and comprises two stories and a basement. At one end is a tower ninety-five feet high, which adds greatly to the imposing, magnificent features of the architecture of the castle.

The mansion is divided into twenty-one rooms, exclusive of halls and corridors, and cellar basement. The apartments are all well ventilated. In the cellar there is a complete gas apparatus, with connecting pipes running throughout the entire establishment, with corresponding brackets and pendants in all the rooms.

The water supply is good, and may be rendered unlimited, as the Mississippi river is near by. Timber for fuel and other purposes, abounds in exhaustless quantity, and coal may be obtained from the Big Muddy mines across the river, in Illinois, at the low rate of eight cents per bushel, delivered at the landing. There is a quarry of splendid building stone on the premises, from which can be obtained all that may be needed for any desired or needed improvements. The locality is of easy access by river and railroad, and as occasion may require, supplies may be obtained from a distance with no difficulty.

The peculiar location of the celebrated castle enables one to secure a view of the great Mississippi for many miles, and it presents a constant change of aspect, which, to the diseased mind, would convey a constant mental refreshment, and a distraction from the ever recurring hallucinations which draw the mind from its delicate balance and make it what it is—an object of profound pity for its hopeless loss, a constant care for its relief, and a study which has, for centuries, puzzled the greatest thinkers of any age.

The property is offered to the State with 350 acres, a portion of which is good tillable land, for the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, one third cash, one third in two years, and one third in four years, with interest at the rate of four per cent per annum.

It is not considered by your Committee that the buildings now erected, will by any means be sufficiently large to meet the demands required.

The purchase of this property, would, in the opinion of your Committee, necessitate the erection of additional buildings, which could not be done, and make other needed alterations to the present buildings for less than $75,000, perhaps more.

Your Committee after the return from Kennett Castle, proceeded to the next point on their list, Fulton.

At this point your Committee was met by a delegation of the citizens of Fulton, and a number of officers of Asylum No. 1, (located at this place,) who gave a cordial welcome. We repaired to the Asylum No. 1, where we were given every facility for gaining information as to the internal working of the institution, and the divisions into wards, etc., relating to its government, and after a careful examination, feel constrained to say that no building constructed other than for the especial purpose, can be utilized as an asylum for the insane, without material and costly alterations.

In and about these premises, your Committee found ample water facilities. The system of sewerage was as perfect as competent engineers could design and construct. The building throughout is heated by steam, and the ventilation is as good as we could wish. The system of dividing each floor into wards by means of the halls, and thus providing each ward with its own dining room, bathing rooms and water closets, and preventing an over crowding, we deem essential to good discipline and perfect comfort.

Your committee, while here, were shown plans by a resident architect for building an addition to Asylum No. 1. The plans proposed were for two wings, one on the north side and one on the south side of the present structure, each wing to be 165 feet long, 44 feet wide, four stories high, and to accommodate, when built, 338 patients.

The estimates for the new building amount, in the aggregate, to the sum of $53,000, which your committee think remarkably low. This estimate covers every cost except for furniture. An improvised building known as the gymnasium would furnish quarters for convicts, if such labor was used.

The supply of water now at hand would be sufficient for the wants of the new wings. The engine and boilers are of sufficient capacity to furnish steam for heating and giving motive power, and the laundry and bakery will also be of sufficient capacity to meet the wants of the new additions.

From Fulton, your committee returned to Jefferson City, and, under the guidance of gentlemen interested in the location of the asylum at that point, we were shown a property located about one mile from the Capitol, consisting of sixty acres of fair land, known as the Dixon place, the improvements thereon being of no special value. We then visited another location, known as the Nitchey place, consisting of eighty acres, the buildings on which we regard as of no material value for the purposes required by the State. From thence we visited the Fair ground, consisting of eighty acres of well-situated land.

These different localities are all situated in such close proximity to the Missouri river that a sufficient supply of water could be obtained by the use of force pumps. The value placed on these properties is $3,500 for either place, which, however, would be donated to the State for the purpose of erecting thereon Asylum No. 2. The price of coal is higher at Jefferson City than at any other point visited by your committee, except St. Joseph.

The advantage of the location of the Asylum at this point is chiefly to be found in the employment of convict labor in its construction, and that the institution may be under the constant eye of the legislative branch of the State government.

After a careful consideration of the advantages offered at the points visited, we draw the following conclusions:

That an addition of two wings to the Asylum at Fulton, which would give quarters for about 338 patients, can be built for less immediate outlay of money than at any other point. This, for the reason that sufficient engine, boiler, water and laundry facilities are already at hand. Also, the cost of attendance for the number of patients, in addition to those now there, would be somewhat less than elsewhere.

These economical considerations may, however, be set aside by the fact that almost all medical expert testimony, bearing on the treatment of the insane, points to the conclusion that asylums for the insane should never be made too large.

Another consideration is, that insane asylums should be as easy of access as possible, to save cost of transportation of patients. This last consideration is an objection to building at Fulton, as it leaves all the densely populated northwestern part of the State without asylum facilities.

It must be borne in mind that the State now owns, at St. Joseph, nearly one hundred thousand dollars' worth of asylum property, which, if abandoned by the State for asylum purposes, would prove of but little value for any other purpose. And while it is evident that the immediate actual cost of building at Fulton would be less than at St. Joseph, it is just as evident that the demand for asylum capacity will, in a very few years, be so great as to compel the building of an additional asylum either at St. Joseph or some other point in the northern part of the State.

It is proper, also, to state that the estimates made at Fulton for the extension of that asylum provide for having the new structure ready for occupancy about autumn next.

It was stated to your committee that the asylum at St. Joseph could be ready for occupancy within ninety days from the time that assurances were given that the ruins at that place were to be reconstructed.

Investigation in this case has proven that, no matter at what point the State shall build, the direct details should be, to a large extent, under the direct supervision of some one who is in all respects an expert in the asylum care and treatment of the insane.

After careful considerations of all the facts bearing on this matter, your committee sees no sufficient reason for relocating Asylum

No. 2 at any other point than St. Joseph, and would recommend an appropriation sufficient to carry out the above purpose.

SPEAKER: Your Committee on St. Louis Delegation, to whom was referred House bill No. 552, entitled an act to repeal an act concerning street railroads in the city of St. Louis, beg leave to report that they have considered the same, and herewith submit a substitute, and recommend that the substitute do pass; which was read.

House bill No. 552, was taken up with the substitute recommended by a majority of the St. Louis Delegation.

Pending the consideration of the bill and substitute,

Mr. O'Malley presented the following minority report, as a substitute for the majority report.

MR. SPEAKER: The undersigned members of the Committee of the St. Louis Delegation, to whom was referred House bill No. 552, entitled An act to repeal an act concerning street railroads in the city of St. Louis, approved January 16, 1860, beg leave to report against the recommendation that the substitute, presented by the committee, do pass, for the following reasons:

1. So far as the same would affect the city of St. Louis, it is legislation for the benefit of a small section of the city against the interests of nine-tenths of its citizens and property.

2. So far as the same would affect street railroad interests, it is for the benefit of two private street railroad speculations, one completed and the other now in progress, against the rights, interests and property of the other companies.

3. That it attempts indirectly to over-ride the decisions of the circuit court of St. Louis, the court of appeals and the supreme court of this State, for the benefit of two corporations who have deliberately violated the law of this State.

4. That we are informed by high legal authority, and believe, that the original bill and the substitute proposed are unconstitutional.

5. In so far as the substitute affects other cities, towns and villages, no such legislation has been asked from them, and they have had no hearing upon the matter.

6. And whereas, the original bill was a local and special act, referring only to one act and the city of St. Louis, and the substitute reported is a general law repealing many laws, and affecting all the street railroads in the State; and whereas, the legislation proposed is very important, and the St. Louis Delegation is divided thereon, we ask that the original bill and substitute be referred to the Committee on Internal Improvements, to whom it properly belongs.

MARTIN O'MALLEY,

J. R. CARROLL,

HUGH J. BRADY,

THOS. SMITH,

CHAS. A. POLLOCK.

Which was read.

Mr. O'Malley moved that the substitute, bill and reports, be referred to the Committee on Internal Improvements.

The ayes and noes being demanded, the motion to refer to the Committee on Internal Improvements, was not agreed to by the following vote:

AYES—Messrs. Brady, Brown, Carroll, Coleman, Craig, Drum, Hammons, Knight, McKinney, O'Malley, Pollock, Ragan, Rawlings, Saunders, Settles, Smith of St. Louis city and Wells—17.

ABSENT WITH LEAVE—Messrs. Anderson, Cock, McDaniel, Vancleve and Wiley—5.

SICK—Messrs. Ballew, Campbell of St. Louis city, Creager, Dodson, Tiernan and Warren—6.

NOT VOTING—Mr. Speaker—1.

The question recurring upon adopting the minority report as a substitute for the majority report; it was not adopted.

Mr. Davis rose to a point of order, and stated that the substitute offered by the committee was out of order, for the reason that it changed the original scope of the bill.

The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken.

The question recurring upon agreeing to the substitute recommended by a majority of the St. Louis Delegation; the substitute was read and agreed to, and, on motion, ordered engrossed and printed.

The following message was received from the Governor through his Private Secretary, Mr. Yost:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, CITY OF JEFFERSON, }
April 22, 1879. }

Senators and Representatives:

On the first day of June next, $250,000 revenue bonds of this State will become due, which were issued in pursuance of a law enacted by the last Legislature. Shortly after my inauguration, I discovered large liabilities had been incurred during the two preceding years, in excess of the appropriations made for that purpose. These liabilities had not been improperly incurred, and no doubt would have been paid, if the money appropriated for such objects, had not been already exhausted. To provide for the payment of these liabilities, an act to appropriate money for the deficiencies in the appropriations for the years 1875 and 1876, was passed, and the sum of $269,567.96 was appropriated for that purpose. In consequence of these and other existing liabilities, the loan for $250,000 was authorized. A larger sum would then have been asked for, but for the constitutional prohibition. These bonds are payable out of the revenue fund, and there is not, and will not be, money in the treasury wherewith to pay them. I therefore recommend that provision be immediately made for the issue of $250,000 coupon bonds, due and payable within two years from their date, with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, and that the said bonds or their proceeds be exchanged for the outstanding revenue bonds, and that $250,000 be appropriated for that purpose.

By an act of the Legislature, approved on the 15th of March last, provision was made that the Treasurer should, within thirty days from that date, give a new bond, with sufficient sureties, or vacate his office. That act provided the bond should be for $500,000, whilst the law which was in force when he first entered on the discharge of his duties as Treasurer, required a bond for $1,000,000. The number of sureties—not less than ten—is prescribed by the former and present law. On Saturday evening, the 12th inst., the Treasurer presented to me his bond for approval. There were twelve sureties on his bond, and each has justified, in the manner required by law, “that he was worth the amount set opposite his name, after the payment of all debts for which he is in anywise bound or liable.” With some of the sureties I had no personal acquaintance, nor had I any personal knowledge of the property they owned, its nature, where situated, or their liabilities. Nor does the law provide any means whereby the Governor can investigate such matters. If the bond had not been approved on or before the 14th inst., the office of Treasurer, by the terms of the law, would have become vacant. One or two of the sureties justified in this city. The sureties swore they were worth sums which aggregated $615,000, or $115,000 in excess of the amount required by the law. Upon the evidence presented to me—which was their own affidavits—I pronounced the sureties good and sufficient. I approved of the bond on Monday, the 14th inst., and it is on file in the office of the Secretary of State.

The names of the sureties, and the sums they severally swore they were worth, are as follows:

Calvin F. Burnes	$300,000
Alex. Young.....	20,000
John J. Daly.....	20,000
Quintus Price.....	10,000
William Carter.....	75,000
L. N. Crawford.....	35,000
Hugh L. Fox.....	50,000
Thos. Thoroughman.....	20,000
Jno. R. Farrar.....	25,000
Fielding Burnes.....	40,000
C. H. Lamar.....	5,000
Tennessee Mathews.....	15,000

It is necessary to reduce the expenditures of the State, or to increase its revenue, or to do both. The revenue is not adequate to defray the expenses of the State government, liquidate its indebtedness, payable from the revenue fund, and to provide for such casualties as may occur. The rebuilding of the Lunatic Asylum is required by justice and humanity. The outstanding revenue bonds should not be renewed after this year. If the Legislature should levy a poll tax, it can be collected this year, and enable a portion of these bonds to be paid before the expiration of two years, and enable work to be commenced on the asylum this year, and, if not completed this year, to be completed at an early period next year. There will be greater delinquencies in the collection of the poll-tax than in the collection of a tax on property, and this delinquency should be considered. If the Legislature will impose a poll-tax of $1.00 on every male person of the age of 21 and upwards, the revenue bonds can be liquidated within the ensuing two years, and the treasury be relieved of its other embarrassments.

The Treasurer, in his biennial report, stated there was a balance in the treasury, on the 1st of January last, of $472,465.92, which belonged to the following funds :

State Revenue fund.....	$177,418 06
State Interest fund.....	156,039 79
State School fund.....	457 11
State School moneys.....	120,828 48
State Siminary fund.....	95 98
State Library fund.....	1,355 30
Redemption of Land fund.....	9 58
Insurance Department fund.....	2,964 29
Road and Canal fund.....	412 49
Executors' and Administrators' fund.....	12,885 74
	$472,465 92

And deposited and held as follows :

Bank of Commerce, St. Louis, Mo.....	$122,303 37
National Bank State, St. Louis.....	3,045 25
The Mastin Bank, Kansas City.....	286,187 80
Deposited with Reid and Chrisman.....	5,000 00
Clinton County Bonds, (in vault).....	49,000 00
Wolf Scalp Certificates, (in vault).....	4,432 00
Currency, (in vault).....	2,497.50

The only sums available at that date were the deposit in the Bank of Commerce, $122,303.37, and the currency in vault, $2,497.50, making $124,800.87. The other items in the last statement are not available.

The money deposited in the Mastin Bank is money deposited by the Treasurer to his own credit, and a portion of it deposited when the bank was said to be in failing circumstances. The transactions of the Treasurer with that bank have been so managed and conducted that the whole claim of Col. Gates against that bank is in dispute, and has recently been disallowed by the assignee of said bank. It is just to state that an appeal has been taken by Col. Gates from this decision. If that bank was used merely as a place of deposit of money by Col. Gates, it is singular that his account against the bank should be disputed. With respect to another item of $49,000 Clinton county bonds, I am not yet advised that the State is the owner of them. I am informed these bonds came from the Bank of St. Joseph, a bank at all times solvent, and why county bonds should be received in his transactions with that bank, with the expectation the State will take them as cash, I cannot imagine.

But the following sums were not, nor are they now, available:

National Bank, State, St. Louis.....	$3,045 25
Mastin Bank, Kansas City.....	286,187 80
Deposited with Reid and Chrisman.....	5,000 00
Clinton County Bonds.....	49,000 00

This amount of $343,233.05, in my opinion, will not be available during the next twelve months, and probably not then. It matters but little to what fund it belongs. The money belongs to the people—was collected from them—and its place must be supplied by other money collected from them. If this sum belongs to the interest fund, then it could now be applied to the payment of $340,000 of the bonds of the State, and stop interest on that sum, amounting to more than $20,000 annually. If any portion of that sum belongs to the revenue fund, then that fund is embarrassed to that extent. And if the same shall not be paid by the Treasurer and his sureties, and if it cannot be collected by law, then have the people lost that sum of money.

Since the Treasurer has given a new bond, a settlement should be made between the Treasurer and the State. Difficulties may arise which can now be avoided. The sureties on the bond first given by the Treasurer are liable for any delinquency, neglect or misconduct of the Treasurer, which occurred prior to the approval of the new bond, and if the money for which the Treasurer is accountable shall not be adjusted and paid to the State, I advise authority be given that a suit be commenced, on that bond, against the Treasurer and all his sureties. But whether this shall be done or not, it is proper the sureties on the new bond shall know for what sums of money they are responsible, and therefore justice requires that this settlement shall be speedily made. The matter rests with you to have this settlement made, as does also the authority to commence suit against the Treasurer on his bond. I have no authority in the premises, nor has any other executive officer such authority.

The State has received from time to time, and probably will receive, money on account of the sale, by the Government of the United States, of lands which had been duly and properly selected as swamp lands. Such lands were granted by the United States to this State, and the State donated the lands to the counties in which they were situated. The law requires the Register of Lands to pay the money he may receive into the State treasury, to the credit of the county to which said money belongs. And the law provides the Treasurer shall pay said money to the county entitled thereto. This law was enacted many years ago, and has been abrogated by the 19th section of the 10th article of the Constitution, which provides :

"No moneys shall ever be paid out of the treasury of this State, or any of the funds under its management, except in pursuance of an appropriation ; nor unless such payment be made or a warrant shall have issued therefor within two years after the passage of such appropriation act."

I recommend the sum of $20,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be appropriated for the purpose of paying to the counties entitled thereto such sums of money as may be paid into the State treasury by the Government of the United States as indemnity for swamp land sold by the United States. I also advise this appropriation be made available immediately, as there is some money which can be paid now to some counties.

I hope the Legislature will not adjourn without reducing costs in criminal cases. I can but reiterate the opinions I expressed in my message at the commencement of this session of the Legislature, except to advise that where persons shall be confined in jail before or after trial, the expenses of the support of the prisoner in jail shall be borne by the county wherein the prosecution was commenced. Such a course, will throw upon counties a burden now borne by the State, but will have a tendency to reduce those expenditures.

JOHN S. PHELPS.

Which was read.

Mr. Dale moved that the message be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means, and that 1,500 copies be ordered printed ; which was agreed to.

The question being, "Shall the objections interposed by the gentleman from DeKalb (Mr. Haynes) be sustained by the House?" the House refused to sustain the objections.

The Speaker pro tem. thereupon proceeded to affix his signature to the bill, when

Mr. Haynes submitted the following written protest against the signing thereof:

MR. SPEAKER: The undersigned members of the Lower House of the 30th General Assembly of the State of Missouri, do object to your signing substitute for Senate bill No. 162, and file this, their solemn protest, against the signing thereof, for the following reasons, to-wit:

First—That an insertion has occurred in said bill, so that the bill proposed to be signed is not the same in substance and form as when considered and passed by the House, which insertion is as follows:

SECTION 2. And, whereas, the time within which divers railroad companies, organized under the general laws of this State, are required to finish and put in operation their respective roads, will expire within ninety days after the adjournment of the present session of the General Assembly, leaving such roads partially completed, therefore an emergency exists which requires that this act should go into immediate effect, and therefore this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Second—That when the said bill was put upon its final passage in the House, the emergency clause thereto was voted upon and defeated. A motion was then made to reconsider the vote by which it was defeated, and the vote upon such motion to reconsider was immediately taken and carried, and thereupon another vote was immediately taken upon the emergency clause, and the same again defeated, and the same thereby finally disposed of, as provided by section 35 of article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Missouri; and that the act of the House on the first day of May, 1879, by which the emergency clause was passed is in violation of said section 35 of said article 4 of said Constitution; and that the emergency clause is an insertion that has occurred in said bill since its passage by the House.

Third—That the matters and things set out in section 2 of said bill do not create an emergency, as contemplated by section 36 of article 4 of the Constitution.

Fourth—That this bill purports to be a general law, but is in effect a special law, and is in violation of that clause of section 53 of article 4 of the Constitution, which prohibits the General Assembly from passing a special law extending the charters of corporations.

Fifth—That this bill was not read on three different days in the House, nor was it read at any time in full before its final passage in the House, but only read by title, and the passage thereof is in violation of section 26 of article 4 of the Constitution.

Thos. A. McKinney, Gentry county; W. H. Craig, Rep., Sullivan county; S. R. Burford, Rep., Cape Girardeau county; M. V. Ingram, Rep., Greene county; Jas. W. Kneisley, Rep., Boone county; W. H. Haynes, Rep., DeKalb county.

The Speaker pro tem. laid before the House the following communication from the State Treasurer :

CITY OF JEFFERSON, May 13, 1879.

To the Honorable House of Representatives of the Thirtieth General Assembly :

In compliance with a resolution adopted by your honorable body, May 6, requesting me to furnish you certain information concerning the finances of the State, I have the pleasure of submitting the following report, showing the receipts and disbursements of the treasury for the four months ending April 30, 1879; also, giving the balances in the various funds on the first days of January and May of this year, as follows :

	Balance Jan. 1, 1879.	Receipts in 1879.	Disbursements in 1879.	Balance May 1, 1879.
State Revenue Fund.....	$177,418 06	$679,492 19	$845,408 23	$11,502 02
State Interest Fund.....	156,039 79	606,004 19	57,660 00	704,383 98
State School Fund.....	457 11	457 11
State School Moneys.....	120,828 48	382,255 18	301,711 50	201,372 16
State Seminary Fund	95 08	95 08
State Seminary Moneys.....	3,660 00	3,660 00
State Library Fund.....	1,355 30	1,355 30
Executors and Admr's Fund....	12,885 74	608 11	13,493 85
Redemption of Land Fund.....	9 58	9 58
Insurance Department Fund....	2,964 29	5,432 35	5,432 35	2,964 29
Road and Canal Fund.....	412 49	412 49
Totals.....	$472,465 92	$1,677,452 02	$1,213,872 08	$936,045 86

I estimate the amount that will be received into the revenue and interest funds during the years 1879 and 1880 at $4,925,000.00, or $390,000.00 less than was actually received into said funds during the last two years, to which add $275,000.00 balance in these funds January 1, 1879, we have the sum of $5,200,000.00 as the probable resources of said funds for the years 1879 and 1880.

In arriving at the actual receipts during the last two years, I have added to the receipts as shown by my report, dated January 14, 1879, the sum of $190,000.00 collected by my predecessor after the first of January, 1877, and reported by him as collected during the year 1876.

The appropriations made by the present General Assembly from these funds to date, aggregate, in round numbers, $5,265,000.00. Of this amount, I estimate that at least $165,000.00 will not be withdrawn from the treasury, for the reason it will not be needed for the purposes it has been appropriated—for instance, $60,000.00 was appropriated for the support of the Penitentiary, none of which has been used thus far, nor will likely be used, for the reason the earnings of that institution for the past year have been sufficient to relieve the treasury from the payment of any sum out of said appropriation. The permitting of convicts to be worked under contract in the coal mines of Johnson county will do away with the necessity of constructing additional buildings in the Penitentiary. I therefore estimate that $25,000.00 of the $45,000.00 appropriated for this purpose will not be withdrawn from the treasury. I estimate that $35,000.00 of the $75,000.00 appropriated to pay officers and employes of the Penitentiary will remain in the treasury, unexpended. This estimate is based on the last quarterly report of the Warden.

I estimate the amounts as below stated will not be withdrawn from the following appropriations, for the reason the appropriations exceed the actual amount required for the same purposes during the last two years, as follows:

Pay assessing and collecting revenue	$28,000.00
Pay costs in criminal cases	9,000.00
Pay apprehension of criminals	6,000.00
Pay publishing decisions of supreme court	1,000.00
Pay contingent expenses of several departments	1,000.00

To recapitulate, I estimate the demands that will be probably made against the revenue and interest funds during 1879 and 1880 at $5,100,000.00, or $100,000.00 less than the probable receipts.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully,

ELIJAH GATES,
State Treasurer.

To special appropriations, estimated.....	1,500 00

STATE INTEREST FUND -Continued.

To current expenses for eight months of this year, being from May 1 to January 1, 1880.....	516,000 00
To current expenses for 1880.....	773,931 67
To estimated transfer to school moneys in March, 1880...	328,255 18
To interest on public debt for two years out of interest fund, appropriated.....	2,010,960 00
To payment of bonds in the two years pursuant to Constitution and appropriation.....	500,000 00
To appropriation for fish culture.....	6,000 00
Balance		$140,739 43
Totals.....	$5,235,500 88	$5,235,500 88
Estimated deficiencies January 1, 1881.....	$140,739 43

The foregoing does not include $60,000 for support of the penitentiary, nor $40,000 for improvements and repairs of same. A part, however, of the $40,000 will be required. Nor does it embrace the $13,850 for repairs of the State House, Court House and Armory. These are left out of the estimate, to offset any amounts of the appropriations which may not be drawn out.

While the expenditures of these two years will be about the same as during 1877 and 1878, it must be borne in mind that the resources are not so great. There was borrowed on sale of revenue bonds $250,075, and placed in the revenue fund.

The taxable property of the State is now $55,973,317 smaller than then, which will make a reduction in taxes from that source, of $223,893.26 a year, or $447,786.53 in two years, allowing nothing for commissions for collecting or delinquencies. Besides, there was a larger amount of back taxes collected then than will be now, and which contributes to the balance of $120,224.98 in the revenue fund, and $156,039.79 in the interest fund, on January 1st, making a total of $276,264.77 to commence with this year; whereas, on January 1, 1881, there will be, if the foregoing estimates are correct, a deficiency of $140,739.43; to which add the said $276,264.77, on January 1, which will make a difference January 1, 1881, as compared with January 1, 1879, of $417,004.20.

I have not allowed anything for commissions for collecting the taxes, nor for delinquent taxes; estimating that the receipts from the back taxes will probably cover them.

It is estimated that the outstanding warrants on January 1 next, over the receipts will be $220,000, consequently it will be utterly impossible for the Treasurer to keep the warrants paid up. At no time within these two years can the Treasurer catch up in payment of warrants on the revenue fund. The interest on the public debt and $500,000 of the bonds will be promptly met, for if the interest fund for that purpose should be short, it will be made up out of the revenue fund, pursuant to the constitution.

Very respectfully,

THOMAS HOLLADAY,

State Auditor.

The following message was received from the Governor, through his Private Secretary, Mr. Yost.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
CITY OF JEFFERSON, May 19, 1879. }

HON. J. ED. BELCH, Speaker House of Representatives :

SIR—I regret I am compelled to return to the House of Representatives, in which it originated, a joint resolution Authorizing the Governor and Attorney-General to employ an attorney to prosecute certain claims against the government of the United States, without my approval. My objection relates to the form of the procedure, and not to its subject matter. Whether so directed or not, I should endeavor to obtain from the government of the United States whatever may be justly due from the United States, but I have not any authority to employ attorneys for that purpose.

The constitution of our State provides: "The style of the laws of this State shall be, 'Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Missouri, as follows,' " and "No law shall be passed except by bill, etc.;" "Bills may originate in either House, etc.;" "No bill * * * shall contain more than one subject, etc." The constitution plainly recognizes the difference between bills and joint resolutions. Bill, in parliamentary law, means "a form or draft of a law presented to a legislature, but not yet enacted, or before it is enacted—a proposed or projected law." A bill, after it receives the approval of the law-making power, is then denominated an act, whilst joint resolutions have only the one name, both before and after their adoption.

A writer on parliamentary law says: "Until the second session of the 27th Congress, no instance is to be found of an appropriation elsewhere than in a bill. During the first fifty years of the government, the whole number of joint resolutions passed scarcely amounted to two hundred, whilst since that period the number has been quadrupled, and at the 41st Congress alone, amounted to more than five hundred. The increase within the latter period in the number of joint resolutions containing appropriations has been in a still greater proportion. The early and long continued practice of Congress indicates that the framers of the constitution who sat in the first and succeeding Congresses, and those who followed them for many years, construed the constitutional provision that 'no money shall be withdrawn from the Treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law,' as requiring the highest character of laws—namely, bills, not joint resolutions."

The constitution provides: "The Governor shall consider all bills and joint resolutions," etc., and it is also provided: "Every resolution to which the concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary, except on questions of adjournment, of going into joint session, and of amending this constitution, shall be presented to the Governor, and before the same shall take effect, shall be proceeded upon in the same manner as in the case of a bill: Provided, that no resolution shall have the effect to repeal, extend, alter or amend any law."

Legislative bodies make known their will by orders, resolutions and bills. All the constitutions of this State have contained the same provision concerning the style of the laws; and it was held by the Supreme Court of this State, under a former constitution, that the provision concerning the style of our laws was directory and not mandatory. But it is clear to my mind the framers of the present constitution intended the style of all our laws should be, "Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Missouri," and therefore this provision is mandatory. Besides declaring such shall be the style of our laws, the constitution also provides, "That no resolution shall have the effect to repeal, extend, alter or amend any law," thus showing that if any new law shall be adopted—any existing law to be extended, repealed or amended, it is to be done by bill and not by joint resolution. The joint resolution herewith returned proposes to alter existing laws—to prescribe a rule of action in a manner which is forbidden by the constitution, and I therefore withhold my approval.

Very respectfully,

JOHN S. PHELPS.

Which was read.

That said contestor and contestee came before your committee and contestee filed his motion to quash contestor's depositions filed herein, on the ground that notice of the taking of such depositions was not given in time. And your committee having considered said motion, doth find that such notice was not served on contestee until the day set for the taking of the same, and not until five and a half hours after the time named therein for the commencement of the taking of the same. In the opinion of your committee, said notice of the taking of such depositions was insufficient, and the motion to quash should be sustained, which is accordingly recommended.

And said contestee filed his objection to the notice of contest herein, served upon him by the contestor upon the ground that such notice of contest does not state facts sufficient to give contestor the right to contest the election of contestee. And your committee having examined the said notice, doth believe and consider said notice of contest to be insufficient, and recommends that said notice be adjudged insufficient.

It therefore appearing to your committee that there was no sufficient notice of the contest herein, nor of the taking of the depositions, and said John D. S. Dryden holding a proper certificate of election, your committee recommend that said Dryden be declared entitled to said seat in the House.

Hon. M. K. McGRATH, Secretary of State :

SIR—I transmit to you House bill No. 630, entitled An act to amend section 31 of chapter 122 of the General Statutes of Missouri of 1865, with my reasons for withholding my approval of the same.

The constitution, section 28, article 4, provides: "No bill (except general appropriation bills, which may embrace the various subjects and accounts for and on account of which moneys are appropriated, and except bills passed under the third subdivision of section forty-four of this article) shall contain more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title."

It was the intention of the Legislature to amend the law respecting executors and administrators, and to authorize sales of real estate for the payment of debts in cities of one hundred thousand inhabitants, or more, to be made at an established real estate exchange, if the court should so direct. There is no subject matter expressed in the title of this bill, and therefore the requirements of the constitution, in this respect, have not been complied with. In my opinion, this provision of our constitution is mandatory and not merely directory. Because the subject of this bill is not clearly expressed in its title, I refuse to approve of it.

Very respectfully,

JOHN S. PHELPS.

Hon. M. K. McGRATH, Secretary of State :

SIR—I transmit to you House bill No. 633, entitled An act to amend section forty-two of chapter one hundred and sixty of the General Statutes of Missouri of 1865, with my reasons for withholding my approval of the same.

The constitution, section 28, article 4, provides : “ No bill (except general appropriation bills, which may embrace the various subjects and accounts for and on account of which moneys are appropriated, and except bills passed under the third subdivision of section forty-four of this article) shall contain more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title.”

The object of this bill is to provide that in cities of one hundred thousand inhabitants, or more, sales of real estate on execution may be made at a real estate exchange, if so designated by the officer in his advertisement of the sale. There is no subject matter expressed in the title of this bill, and therefore the requirements of the constitution, in this respect, have not been complied with.

In my opinion, this provision of our constitution is mandatory and not merely directory. Because the subject of this bill is not clearly expressed in its title, I decline to approve of it.

Very respectfully,

JOHN S. PHELPS.

HON. M. K. McGRATH, Secretary of State:

SIR:—I herewith transmit to you Senate bill No. 345, entitled An act to appropriate money to pay interest on certain State bonds held in trust for the State Seminary Fund for the years 1879 and 1880, without any approval endorsed thereon.

In the general appropriation act, approved March 24, 1879, the amount necessary to pay all the interest on the debt of the State was appropriated, amounting to the sum of $2,010,960, for the years 1879 and 1880. This sum includes the amount of interest which will accrue for two years on the State bonds held in trust by the State for the Seminary Fund, as well as all other indebtedness of the State, except the interest on the revenue bonds; therefore, this bill is unnecessary.

Very respectfully,
JOHN S. PHELPS.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
CITY OF JEFFERSON, June 11, 1879. }

HON. M. K. McGRATH, Secretary of State:

SIR—I herewith transmit to you a bill, which originated in the Senate, entitled An act relating to the appointment of a committee to settle with the State Treasurer, without my approval indorsed thereon. The committee of the members of Legislature, who were appointed by the Executive to make settlement with the State Auditor and State Treasurer, entered before the Legislature convened, on the discharge of the duties assigned them. They were many days engaged in examining the vouchers in the offices of the Auditor and Treasurer, and, afterwards, made their report to the Legislature. This report was not approved by the Legislature; and, consequently, no actual settlement was made and approved.

The bill, under consideration, provides for a settlement of the accounts of the State Treasurer only, and not for the settlement of the accounts of the Auditor. It is desirable a settlement of the accounts of both of these officers should be made to the first of January last; and of the accounts of the Treasurer from the 1st of January last to the 14th day of April, the date of the approval of the new bond of the Treasurer. The accounts of these two officers are so intimately connected that the accounts of both should be settled at the same time.

Because this bill does not provide for the settlement of the accounts of both these officers, and because the bill proposes to assign a committee, composed of members of both houses, after the adjournment of the Legislature, to the performance of other than legislative duties—or duties not connected with the revision and promulgation of the revised laws, and to direct that additional compensation be made therefor; and because no committee has been, nor can be now, appointed on the part of the Senate, I decline to approve of this bill.

Very respectfully,

JOHN S. PHELPS.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 11, 1879. }

Hon. M. K. McGRATH, Secretary of State :

SIR: I herewith transmit you a bill, which originated in the House of Representatives, entitled An act to amend section 1 of chapter 16 of the General Statutes of the State of Missouri, and to add a new section to said chapter, to be numbered section 6, with my reasons for not approving the same.

The laws of this State declare all officers shall hold their offices until their successors are elected or appointed, commissioned and qualified. The Constitution declares that when any vacancy in office shall be filled, the person appointed "shall continue in office until a successor shall have been duly elected or appointed and qualified according to law." The law contemplates that persons who have been duly appointed to office and have entered on the discharge of the duties pertaining thereto, cannot by their act alone be relieved from the discharge of its duties or voluntarily abandon the office. By accepting an office the person accepting promises to discharge the duties of the office during the entire term for which he shall have been appointed, and until his successor shall be qualified. Hence the commissions issued to officers who have been appointed to fill vacancies in this State, define the term of office, and also authorize and require the incumbent to continue in the discharge of its duties till his successor shall be qualified. But it is urged by some that the acceptance of a resignation is not necessary to retire the incumbent from the "burdens and cares of office." I do not approve of this doctrine. On the contrary, one who seeks to be relieved from office by resignation, must deliver his resignation to the proper officer, who must accept it, and make official note of the same, and the fact of acceptance ought to be communicated to the incumbent.

For a long time in this State, under every road law from 1835 to the present date (and that law has often been re-enacted) overseers of roads have been compelled to discharge the duties of the office, and if they should refuse to accept the office, they were subject to a criminal prosecution, for which the punishment was and is a fine. Overseers were required to perform the duties of the office for at least one year before the county court could release them from the office. They could not refuse to accept the office, nor could they resign within one year from the date of their appointment. They were compelled to accept the office, and in this respect like unto those who are members of municipal corporations, who may, if eligible, be compelled to discharge the duties of the office imposed on them, or submit to such punishment as may be prescribed.

It is an established principle of law that a municipal corporation may compel its members to discharge the duties of an office; in other words, to accept an office, or, by means of a by-law, impose a pecuniary penalty upon such as refuse without legal excuse. And if it be true that municipal corporations obtain all their powers by virtue of grants from the Legislature, then has the Legislature the power to require any of its citizens who are eligible to accept an office, or suffer a penalty for refusing it, or after having accepted the office, to require him to discharge the duties of the office for its full legal term, unless relieved therefrom by the acceptance of a resignation submitted to the appointing power. The Legislature can grant no power unless the Legislature possesses such power, and may itself exercise it.

I adopt the views expressed by Ruffin, C. J., of North Carolina, in the case of Hoke vs. Henderson, 4th Dev. Rep.:

"It has been said that the obligation to continue in office ought to be mutual to be complete, and that such is not the case because the officer may at his pleasure resign. The argument on behalf of the power to discharge an officer assumes the right of the officer to discharge himself; and in that point differs entirely from the law as it stands in the conception of the court. An officer may certainly resign, but without acceptance, his resignation is nothing, and he remains in office. It is not true that an office is held at the will of either party; it is held at the will of both. Generally, resignations are accepted, and that has been so much a matter of course with respect to lucrative offices as to have grown into a common notion that to resign is a matter of right. But it is otherwise. The public has a right to the services of all the citizens, and may demand them in all civil departments as well as in the military. * * * Every man is obliged, upon a general principle, after entering upon office to discharge the duties of it while he continues in office, and he cannot lay it down until the public, or those to whom the authority is confided, are satisfied that the office is in a proper state to be left, and the officer discharged. The obligation is, therefore, strictly mutual, and neither party can forcibly violate it. If indeed the public change the emoluments of office it is another question, whether that be not an implied permission for the officer to retire at his election, unless the contrary be provided in the law. For I cannot doubt that the Legislature has the perfect power, if it choose arbitrarily to exercise it, of compelling, not indeed a particular man designated in a statute by name, but any citizen elected or appointed as by law prescribed, to serve in office even against his will. I have mentioned some instances in which it is done, and there is no reason why, making due compensation, it may not be done as to all offices."

In the case of the State, etc., vs. Boecker, 56 Mo. Reps., 17, it was held that a resignation, to take effect at a future time, was a mere evidence of an intention to resign, and subject to be withdrawn by the party making it at any time before the time indicated, and afterwards by consent of the appointing power. In this case the clerk of the county court filed his resignation with said court, to take effect at a future day, and a copy of the resignation was sent to the Governor, who made an appointment, over the objection of the incumbent, and fifty days before any vacancy could occur. The court says: "The resignation was really in the keeping and under the control of the defendant. It could not amount to a complete and legal resignation, either present or prospective, until it was actually delivered to the Governor, and accepted by him, with the knowledge and consent of the defendant. The delivery was not only without his consent, but against his express wishes and protest."

The bill under consideration consists of two sections. The first section is as follows :

"SECTION 1. Section one of chapter sixteen of the General Statutes of the State of Missouri, is hereby amended so as to read as follows: Section 1. All officers elected or appointed by the authority of the laws of this State, shall hold their offices subject to the right of resignation during their official terms, and until their successors shall be duly elected or appointed and qualified."

It is substantially section 5, article 14 of the State Constitution. I have endeavored to show that the "right of resignation" can be exercised only by the consent of the appointing power; that until a resignation should be accepted by the proper officer, the person tendering the resignation would still be in office; that acceptance was necessary, and knowledge of the acceptance should be communicated to the person proposing to resign.

But the second section, being the sixth section of the act, reads as follows:

"SECTION 6. Every county officer may, at any time, resign his office; such resignation may be made in writing, signed by the officer resigning his office, and filed in the office of either the clerk of the circuit court, or the clerk of the county court of the county. Upon the filing of such resignation in the office of either of such clerks, the office of the officer so resigning, shall be vacant, and a certificate of such vacancy, together with a certified copy of such resignation, shall be immediately certified to the Governor by the clerk in whose office such resignation may be filed."

If this bill should become a law, all the officers of a county might resign, and if this may be done in one county, it might be done in every county in the State. If it is not intended, by this bill, to provide that, from the date of filing of the resignation with the clerk, the officer shall be relieved from all duties and further liabilities, then the bill makes no change in the law, and is, therefore, unnecessary. But there can be no doubt it is intended to provide that county officers shall be permitted to resign, and be relieved from the duties and responsibilities of their office from the date of filing their resignation with the clerk of either the circuit or county courts. There will, therefore, be a time when no person can lawfully discharge the duties of the office—when no person will lawfully have the care of the valuable records belonging to the counties. The three judges of the county court, the judge of the probate court, the clerks of county and circuit courts, the sheriff, coroner, assessor, collector, recorder of deeds, treasurer, public administrator and county surveyor, comprise the county officers, and the duties all of these officers perform are not only important to the counties, but some of them are absolutely necessary to enable the wheels of the State government to move. Suppose all of the county officers, except the clerk of the county court, shall resign. Without a sheriff or coroner, no process, civil or criminal, would be served; without a clerk of the circuit court, no suits would be commenced, no indictments found, and no executions could be issued; without the assessor, no valuation of property could be had, nor without a collector could the taxes be collected. I am supposing such a case as probably will never arise, but these evils could occur under the proposed law, and we should guard against the possibility of their happening. Justice Elmer, of the Supreme Court of New Jersey, in the case of State ex. rel. Reeves vs. Ferguson, 31st N. J. law reps., page 107, remarks: "To hold that an officer, civil or military,, may, at his own pleasure, divest himself of responsibility, by simply tendering a resignation, whatever may be the circumstances prompting the act, it seems to me would be fraught with danger of no ordinary magnitude."

I cannot sanction the provision that every county officer may resign by filing his resignation with the clerk of the county or circuit court, and thereby be relieved and discharged from the further performance of the duties of the office, or the liability for the non-performance thereof. I cannot consent to the increase of the periods of intermission or interregnum of offices. Who is to guard and protect the records entrusted to county officers? Who is to take care of and preserve the deed books of any county, if the recorder shall, by filing his resignation with the clerk, be relieved from further performance of duty? If the office of recorder is vacant, and the late incumbent is discharged from the duties of the office, he has no more right to the custody of the deed books—of immense value—than an absolute stranger. So with the records of the circuit court. The clerk files his resignation with the clerk of the county court, and who will have the custody and care of the valuable records of his office? And so with the other officers. This bill permits officers to resign and abandon the valuable records in their possession, and leave them absolutely to the care of nobody. I will sanction no measure from which can flow such dire consequences.

But there is another objection to this bill, Its title is as follows: "An act to amend section 1 of chapter 16 of the General Statutes of the State of Missouri, and to add a new section to said chapter, to be numbered section 6." Now, this title does not comply with the requirements of the Constitution in that particular, which I recognize to be mandatory and not directory. I think the proper rule for the construction of State Constitutions is tersely expressed in the new Constitution of the State of California: "The provisions of this Constitution are mandatory and prohibitory, unless by express words they are declared to be otherwise." The Constitution of this State provides, section 28, article 4: "No bill (* * * *) shall contain more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title." Will any one inform me what subject is expressed in this title? Can you discover the subject matter of legislation from this title? If so, what is it? Is it it "clearly expressed in its title?" Anything else printed after this title—for instance a portion of the statutes concerning crimes and punishments or concerning wills—would be just as appropriate as the two sections of this bill.

For the reasons I have given, I cannot approve of the bill.

Very respectfully,

JOHN S. PHELPS.
